

PENN WINS ANOTHER

Takes the Second Game from Georgetown, 7 to 1.

ONLY TWO HITS OFF BRADY

Quaker Trier Has Blue and Gray at His Mercy and Strikes Out Fourteen Batters—Visitors Indulge in Rally in Second Inning, Scoring Five Runs—Cantwell in the Box.

Pennsylvania yesterday made it two straight over Georgetown by defeating the Blue and Gray by 7 to 1.

Brady pitched one of the best games of baseball that has been seen in Washington this year. He sent Georgetown down in one, two, three out in six of the nine innings, and most of the West Enders say their finish by the strike-out route. He fanned every member of Capt. Smith's squad at least once, and Scheller, Smith, and Byrnes struck out twice. Fourteen strike-outs that was Brady's record. Mudd and Byrnes were the only players to get a hit off his delivery, and neither of these bingles counted, although Byrnes was sacrificed to second, but when he reached that corner his performance was concluded, for Schaffly and Mudd fanned.

The Penn outfield got but one chance in the nine innings of play, and that was a high blow to Merrick in left, which retired Simon and ended the game.

Brady issued only one pass, and the team behind him made but one error, but this, with a stolen base and a fielder's choice, was enough to save Georgetown from being shut out.

Scored in Three Rounds.

Pennsylvania got men on the bases in every inning but the fifth and seventh, but only scored in three rounds. Henry, the first man up in the opening round, fanned, but Webb made a single, stole second, and got as far as third, after Cantwell had walked Merrick; but he got no farther, as Cantwell fanned Thomas and Brown. Devlin, first up for Georgetown, was easy for Brady, and Scheller and Smith both punched.

Pennsylvania put one over in the second round. After Judd had gone out, Smith to Byrnes, Cochran placed a hit over short and purloined second. Garrison got a base on balls, and Brady, who followed, knocked a hot one to short, which Scheller handled, catching Brady at the plate, Garrison moving up to third and Brady taking second. Then Henry smacked one to Scheller, when the shortstop failed to pick up Garrison scoring. Webb was retired, Cantwell to Byrnes.

Brady struck out the side in Georgetown's half of the second. The Red and Blue warriors scored five in the third on two bases on balls, three hits, two stolen bases, and errors by Byrnes and Devlin. Penn got another in the eighth. Garrison singled, went to second on Cantwell's error of Brady's sizzler. Henry lifted to Courtney for the first out. Then Garrison and Brady got a double steal, Garrison pulling up at third and Brady second. Webb then hit to Scheller, who threw to the plate to catch Garrison, but Mudd dropped the ball and all hands were safe. Merrick fled to Cantwell, and Thomas ended the inning by popping to Scheller.

Georgetown got a man on base in the third and fifth, but only one of them succeeded in reaching second. The Blue and Gray's lone tally came in the eighth. Courtney got the only walk that Brady allowed, and the same gentleman stole the only base that Georgetown was able to get off Brown. The little left fielder went to third on Schaffly's out and scored when Brown failed to hold Garrison's throw of Mudd's grounder.

Glants, St. Yale, 3.

New York, April 6.—The New York Glants played their first exhibition game of the season in this city to-day, meeting the Yale nine and defeating the collegians by the score of 8 to 3.

Although the New Havenites outbatted the Glants, the errors of the former, coupled with opportune hitting by the professionals, gave the victory to the major leaguers. Score:

BOWLERS GET PRIZES.

Successful Knights of the Alloys Awarded at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 6.—As a result of the two weeks of rolling, the victors of the National Bowling Association tournament here received their prizes in various classes as follows:

Five-man team—Catholics, of New York, $25 and a gold medal; their score being 2,514.

Two-man teams—Tuthill and Nelson, of Brooklyn, who rolled 1,220, $17.50 and a medal.

Individual—F. Sauer, of New York, who rolled 657, $12.54.

No Game at Lynchburg.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Lynchburg, Va., April 6.—The game to-day between Lynchburg, last year's Virginia League champion, and the Brooklyn Nationals, was declared off again to-day on account of a storm. The Superbas left this afternoon for the North, greatly chagrined over the inability to play two games here. The New York Americans are to play here Monday.

VANAUKEN IS CAPTAIN.

Chosen to Lead the Annapolis Baseball Team This Season.

Special to The Washington Herald. Annapolis, Md., April 6.—The members of the Annapolis baseball team have elected Frederick T. Vanauken, of Plainfield, N. J., second class, as captain of the team for the remainder of the season. He succeeds Benjamin R. Lombard, of Hillsboro, Miss., who has been compelled to quit the game because of ill health.

Vanauken is about the best pitcher in the Middy squad, and by his election he is practically assured that he will pitch the West Point game. Lombard, the retiring captain, played third base, and his position at present is being filled by Harris.

PHILLIES, 9; ATHLETICS, 5.

Quaker Americans Lose Fourth Exhibition Game to Nationals.

Philadelphia, April 6.—The Athletics went down to defeat for the fourth time in as many games in the spring series with the Phillies to-day. The Athletics pitched poorly for the Athletics, using neither speed nor curves. He got away badly in the first inning, the Phillies scoring two runs. One run, however, was the fault of Davis, who slipped in fielding a bunt. The support by the rest of the team was poor. Score by innings:

NAVY BLANKS GALLAUDET

Annapolis Gets Five Runs in the Second Inning.

Home Team Shows Decided Improvement and Mutes Get Only One Opportunity to Score.

Special to The Washington Herald. Annapolis, Md., April 6.—The Naval Academy baseball team this afternoon defeated Gallaudet College, of Washington, by 7 to 0, it being the first time that the Middles applied the whitewash this season.

The locals put up a better fielding game to-day, compared with their performances in former contests, and Van Auken and Meade pitched in splendid form. The former pitched the first six innings, after which he gave way to Meade. Eighteen of Gallaudet's batsmen were retired on strikes. Van Auken getting the credit for twelve of them.

The Middles did all of their scoring in the early part of the game, five of the runs having been made in the second inning by bunting five hits, and aided by two errors on the part of the visitors. Ducey, Purnell, Lange, Van Auken, and Hickey each rapped out a single in that inning. After that O'Donnell pitched steadily and held the locals down.

The Mutes had their best chance to score in the same inning. Cooper led off with a hit, Bell was passed to first, and Morris was safe on a fielder's choice, thus filling the bases. Van Auken, however, settled down, and Craven, Dillon, and Horton were retired on strikes. The Mutes were unable to do much with either Van Auken, or Meade, and the four safe hits made by them were scattered. The score:

NEWPORT NEWS TEAM.

Will Have Club in the Virginia League This Season.

Special to The Washington Herald. Newport News, Va., April 6.—Otto Wells, president of the Norfolk baseball club, in the Virginia State League, has offered his franchise, contracts, and entire club property for sale to Newport News for a spot cash consideration, and an option has been taken on the club by G. B. A. Booker.

A meeting of business men this evening practically insured the transfer of the club, giving Newport News its much-sought place in the Virginia League. The offer of the sale of the Norfolk franchise came as a surprise, as the club had been expected to be one of the money-making cities, with the exposition close at hand. Mr. Wells is largely interested with his brother in theatrical and summer park enterprises, and expected that an effort will be made to keep the club in Norfolk, but the option is held here.

MERRITT FOR PRESIDENT.

Will Probably Be Elected by the Potomac Boat Club.

W. E. H. Merritt, who has been vice president of the Potomac Boat Club for a number of years, will probably succeed J. H. Doyle as president, who will not consider a renomination. Capt. Douglas Spencer Bliss will stand for re-election, and the terms of Messrs. N. Y. and C. A. Zappone, members of the board of governors, expire by limitation.

BELVEDERE DOWN Y. M. C. A.

Local Basket-ball Team Defeated by Baltimore Quint.

Special to The Washington Herald. Baltimore, Md., April 6.—The Belvedere basket-ball team defeated the team of the Washington Y. M. C. A. in a hotly contested game to-night, at Cross Street Market Hall, by the score of 32 to 17. Despite the large score rolled up by the Belvedere, the game was pretty contested from beginning to end by the team from Washington.

In the first half of the game little scoring was done by either team, the majority of the scoring being in the second half. There was a large attendance present. The line-up follows:

Belvedere—C. Scherholz and A. Smith, forwards; W. Granger and G. Goyart, centers; and W. Smith and W. Scherholz, defenses.

Washington Y. M. C. A.—R. Fowler and F. Jones, forwards; M. Ludwig, center; and C. Williams and J. Jones, defenses.

Referee—Mr. McGee, of the New York Athletic Club. Timekeepers—Messrs. Beckett and H. Wagner.

Brightwood, 8; Takoma Park, 5.

The Brightwood boys defeated the Takoma Park team in a lively game of baseball yesterday, by 8 to 5. The Brightwood boys won the victory to their ability to hit the ball at the proper time. Score by innings:

TAKE UP STAHL CASE

Ban Johnson and Garry Hermann Hear Both Sides.

DECISION IS NOT ANNOUNCED

Former Manager Claims Agreement with Him Was Not Kept by Washington Club Owners—Other Matters Up for Consideration Before the Commission—Comiskey Banqueted.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 6.—President Tom Noyes and Manager Joe Cantillon, of the Washington club, appeared before the national commission here to-day to resist the attempt of ex-manager Jake Stahl, of Washington, to have the commission force their club to trade him, or name a price at which some other American League organization might buy him. No decision was announced, and the outcome will not be known for several days.

Stahl claimed that when he threw up his job as manager last season he was told that he would be allowed to go to any club he might select. He picked out Boston, and announced in the newspapers that he would play there. Then the trouble began. He said Boston made several proposals to Washington to have a trade. One of them was to give Grimschaw, the first baseman, and Harris, the pitcher. The other was to give Grimschaw and Unglaub, but Washington turned down both offers. Stahl thinks these trades were reasonable, and that by not making them Washington violated the agreement with him.

Messrs. Noyes and Cantillon both denied that the exchanges proposed were what Stahl was worth. They did not consider any of the players Boston was willing to let go of any special value, while Stahl was considered a classy first baseman when relieved of the burdens of management. They said they gave Stahl the right to choose his club privately, but not to deal with it, and that because he had made his preference known and intimated that he would go to Boston or where, the Boston club was naturally making a small offer for a man it expected to get anyhow.

Stahl Not Talking.

Stahl, who Washington has greatly overestimated his side of the case and is simply holding out on him, although he does not say so in that many words.

If Washington thinks it cannot get a proper trade from Boston, then because he was a manager of the Washington team who proved a failure, he contended, a price should be set on him, so he could play in another town. Stahl is willing to remain with the same team to endure the roasting the fans would give him if he had a slump in fielding or batting. This contention was brand new, but it is not thought to have impressed the commission. Garry Hermann was not at all enthusiastic when he heard it some days ago. Herrmann and Ban Johnson were the commissioners in attendance to-day.

The Stahl hearing lasted more than an hour, and there were some warm discussions. Both sides were primed for the fight, and each was determined to win at any price. Mr. Noyes did most of the talking for Washington, and pointed out the interference of the commission in such a case would encourage ball players with real or imaginary grievances to fall to action and rely upon getting favorable action upon an appeal to the commission.

Stahl was around the hotel to-night talking to the Chicago White Sox. He was not in a very cheerful mood, but was not making any complaints. He said he thought Washington had not kept his word, but he took the only possible step to get what he believed his dues. He said he wanted to play in Boston, and if he did not go there he did not know what he would do; but if he loses there is any chance he will go to Boston, which with any major league club to which he may be sent.

Fail to Draft Topeka.

Joe Cantillon and the other magnates in the Western League have practically lost in their effort to draft Topeka, Kan., from the Western Association. The formal decision of the case will not be made known for several days, but Garry Hermann left the cat out of the bag last night.

Mr. Herrmann is giving a banquet to-night to Charlie Comiskey, president of the Chicago White Sox, who was to play here to-day, but did not because of rain. Fifty guests, including President Noyes, Charley Murphy, president of the Chicago Cubs, and Ban Johnson, president of the St. Louis Browns, were invited.

The application of Pattee, of Brooklyn, who could not report last year because he was in college, for reinstatement was granted.

By the St. Louis Nationals to the Boston Nationals, was decided in favor of Mertes. The player's contention that he was entitled to the same salary that had been promised by St. Louis was sustained. It was held that St. Louis did not pay the former salary, the difference should be made up by the St. Louis management.
